

Démarche

Démarche méthodologique Integration Maarch Entreprise
Démarche
Bruno Carlin - bruno.carlin@maarch.org

DMS is a very specialised and exciting branch of computer science. Software engineering company are dedicated to documents business line and universities propose specialised curriculum. Our team is composed of trained computer science engineers specialised in documentary technologies and competences.

Maarch Framework has been designed as an integration product. It provides core functionalities to build operational and powerful document management systems.

Our consultants, engineers and graphic designer, have all required skills to conceive and develop document management applications based on Maarch Framework in the best time.

For projects as well as in starter kits, we only work at flat-rate: prices are fixed in advance and we have a result engagement.

No

